Equal Opportunity Policy

At the core of equal opportunity rests our most basic belief that all people should be treated the same. Every Marine and Sailor, regardless of race, color, gender, religion, age, or national origin, will be treated fairly and with respect. This is not a new concept, but one that requires constant vigilance.

For over 239 years the United States Marine Corps has demonstrated to the world all that is noble and honorable. Central to this reputation is our core values of Honor, Courage and Commitment. As U.S. Marines we are Semper Fidelis not only to our Country, but to each other as well.

Behavior contrary to this standard weakens us and ultimately deteriorates the very fiber that is our strength.

We will foster in this unit a professional climate for all Marines and Sailors. As such, I will hold all leaders fully accountable to ensure that such an environment exists, one that consists of the utmost fidelity and respect, consistent with the ethos that has earned the fidelity of our nation.

Our differences make us strong, our solidarity makes us impenetrable, and our resolve makes us one.

Semper Fidelis,
